Interactive Ochre It is an interactive online resource delivering an Aboriginal perspective on cultural awareness training http://sielearning.tafensw.edu.au/toolboxes/toolbox907/index.htm It is worth having a look at this fantastic resource. Unfortunately the Govt Dept that developed it no longer supports or promotes it. However NSW TAFE does still use it.	An induction package to prepare service professionals to work more effectively with Aboriginal people.	Free	Online	Non-accredited or endorsed.	There are a series of activities that can be undertaken that challenge the learner's knowledge and engage the learner in a layered process. The summative assessment requires the learner to apply the content concepts in their workplace context and to plan an event working with Aboriginal people. This requires application of the learning into workplace action.
